

Bonus Material

Thanks for sharing this video with your friends! I really do hope that you learned something useful for your church and that you'll take action on what you heard.

This document contains a listing of all the links I mentioned or showed in the video. As an additional thank you, you'll also find links to additional resources, like a copy of the written part of the presentation, examples of 501c3 determination letters for various denominations (and who to talk to about getting one), additional free software just for non-profits, and some useful WordPress plugins that I didn't mention in the videos. Thanks again for sharing this with your friends!

501c3 Determination Letters:

Getting a Determination Letter (proof that you're a non-profit) is usually just a matter of making a phone call if your denomination already has a group designation. Depending on your organization, these may need to be further customized, but you can even find the determination letters for many church organizations online through google.

In this guide, there are example determination letters for many denominations, as well as contact numbers and emails for who you'd need to talk to get a letter just for your church. Also, there are instructions on what to do if your church isn't affiliated with a denomination.
